P atient care is priority number one for Dr. Nana Mizuguchi, who teamed up with fellow plastic surgeon, Dr. M. Bradley Calobrace, to build the Louisville-based Calobrace & Mizuguchi Plastic Surgery Center. "We both make it a priority to build and maintain relationships with our patients," says Dr. Mizuguchi. "Our goal is to offer lifetime care through our state-of-the-art surgery center, full-service medi-spa and deluxe operating suites." Dr. Mizuguchi finds that for some patients, traditional surgical approaches are inadequate. "Small refinements or modifications to traditional surgery can provide significant improvement of results and satisfaction for my patients," he says.
